MONTHLY REPORT
NOVEMBER 2023

Cautious sentiment

The cautious mood in the Nordic high-yield market continued in November. Companies that report above expectations are unchanged in price and companies that report below expectations are punished hard. This occurs despite the average yield in the market being historically high, Swedish high yield is at 12% and Vinga CB is at 15,2%. The market needs a trigger to change the sentiment. Vinga CB was up 0,4% in November, corresponding to roughly half the fund's coupon income of 0,8% per month (after fees). This means bond prices were slightly down in November as well.

/ COMMENTS - NOVEMBER /

Vinga CB participated in a 3-year bond from the logistics provider Logent AB at yield 10,5%. The company offers efficient logistics solutions and doesn't own properties itself. Logent is asset-light and has an impressive financial track record. With the same pace of cash-flow generation, Logent's leverage will be halved in two years. It is interesting to note that the 5-year swap rate in Sweden has fallen from 3,6% to 2,65% in Q4. The market has priced in the first interest rate cut from ECB in April next year and this will surely ease the pain for the real estate sector, both in Europe and in the Nordics.

The fund is actively managed, meaning that bonds are selected individually after a thorough analysis of each issuer and market. The fund invests primarily in bonds issued by Nordic companies and is suited for investors with a preferred investment horizon of 2-3 years.

While the main focus is corporate bonds in the high yield segment (with lower credit ratings), the fund can also invest in instruments with higher credit ratings ("investment grade") as well as in instruments without credit rating. At least 70 percent of the fund's capital must be invested in corporate bonds and the portfolio managers can use derivatives as part of the fund's investment mandate, as well as to reduce unwanted risk.

The objective of the fund is to achieve capital growth that, over a period of 3 years, exceeds the performance of the fund's benchmark index, OMRX T-BILL +2 percentage points per year.
